

OPITZ, U. W. FOOTBALL MAN, ELECTROCUTED

Maryland Lined up for Calvin Seems Sure

David Lawrence

Baltimore, Md.—This is the first of the border states, normally democratic, which should be classed as doubtful. It will not go by a large plurality to either Davis or Coolidge and it seems certain that the outcome will be close enough to speak of a plurality and not a majority.

If there were two candidates in the field, Davis would win in a walk, but the La Follette candidate probably will be a close enough vote to the democrats to do the very thing the supporters of the third party ticket would not wish to do if they had to choose, as between Coolidge and Davis.

No better illustration of what the La Follette movement has done can be found than in a canvass of the banking and business sections of Baltimore. In their desire to administer a rebuke to radicalism and make certain the victory of a conservative, hundreds of prominently democratic business men and their families who admire Davis are going to ballot for Coolidge.

BOGUS PASSPORT PLOT UNCOVERED; CABINET LOCKED

Bucharest — Discovery of an extensive organization for the issuance and sale of bogus passports to the United States resulted last evening in the attempted suicide of General Vintino, brother of a member of the Rumanian cabinet, and threatened a cabinet shake-up.

The passport frauds were revealed by the American consul at Cherbourg, France, who reported there were irregularities in the papers of Rumanians attempting to board steamers for the United States. His reports resulted in the unearthing of an elaborate scandal and prompted the Rumanian authorities to order the arrest last night of General Vintino. When an attempt was made to take him into custody, however, he shot himself and was taken to a hospital where it was said his condition was grave.

The scandal is considered in political circles as certain to result in the resignation of the general's brother and the reorganization of the cabinet, particularly since other members are reported to be involved.

FINED $25 FOR RECKLESSNESS

William Rodenz, Edgerton, pleaded guilty in municipal court Wednesday afternoon to a charge of reckless driving and paid a fine of $25 and costs. Also sentenced to settle for damage caused to the car of Mrs. Otto Schornack, Janesville, when he collided with it at the corner of East Milwaukee and Third streets. Rodenz, it was charged, drove on the wrong side of the mushroom light at that intersection.

Political Notes

John W. Davis was enroute to Cleveland for the last formal address of his Midwest tour. He spoke at Evansville, Ind., last night.

A state-wide political rally will be staged in Madison, Nov. 2, if Senator La Follette returns home to vote.

Mr. Fred Thompson, Edgerton, has just engaged a worker from the number of applicants who answered his ad in the classified section. He got what he wanted—a steady, all-around man who knew how to work.

If you want competent help—let a Gazette ad find it for you.

Germans of Milwaukee to Vote for Coolidge; Won't Be Herded by Bob

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Milwaukee — Objecting "most strenuously to the attempt by any society or organization to herd together 5,000,000 American citizens of German extraction," in the articles of the third party headed by Senator R. M. La Follette, 113 prominent residents of Milwaukee and vicinity of German extraction, at a dinner last night in the Wisconsin club, formerly the Deutscher club, signed a statement denouncing such action. They charged President Coolidge and the Republican administration. Many of the signers are members of the Von Steuben society here.

"Without committing extensively on the wholly unimpeached effort to herd votes like cattle," the statement says, "we ask the voters to choose as they see fit."

KLANSMAN ADMITS HE HIT OFFICER DURING PARADE

POINT SPIKES ATTEMPT TO ACCUSE KLEAGLE OF ACTION.

NAMES OMITTED

State Scores When Judge Rules Identity Need Not Be Revealed.

Laurens, Wis.—Bert Fleisch, Bonacoh, today admitted on the stand in the trial of George Kleagle, charged with assault on Ku Klux Klan leaders at Bonacoh, that he was the one who struck Kleagle after the latter had attempted to hit Klansmen from the faces of the parade.

This was the main point sought by the state to spike any movement on the part of the defense to show that the Klansmen, who were charged with assault on Ku Klux Klan leaders at Bonacoh, were not the ones who struck Kleagle after the latter had attempted to hit Klansmen from the faces of the parade.

The state won a point in the trial last Wednesday when Circuit Judge Sherman S. Staley, who is hearing the case, ruled that members of the Klans who are being called as witnesses will not be compelled to divulge the names of Klan members who took part in the Bonacoh parade, Aug. 16, which resulted in the charges.

Nine witnesses had been called by the state this morning and five or six others have been summoned.

Minneapolis — An embargo stopping every grain car from moving into Minneapolis or Duluth will have to be enacted within 10 days unless country shippers cooperate by holding back their grain shipments, said a bulletin issued here today by the Northwest Regional advisory board.

With elevators here and at Duluth already crowded with grain, heavy shipments from the country continue and the elevators will reach their capacity within 10 days if the shipments continue at their present rate, the bulletin said.

Drops Quantities of Fuel to Keep from Hitting Earth in Night.

El Paso, Tex. — Nighting a strong head wind, the dirigible Shenandoah passed over El Paso today at 8 a. m. mountain time, enroute to its home station at Lakehurst, N. J. The big ship was not moving more than 20 miles an hour, according to estimates of air officers. Capt. Fr. Biles, and apparently had all motors going in effort to gain speed.

El Paso, Tex. — The navy dirigible Shenandoah was sailing easily today, according to reports from the Port Worth Texas marine base, after some of the most unusual adventures of her career.

She got badly off her course early today and drifted into Mexico, according to reports at Douglas, Ariz., before she was set right by wireless from Port Worth.

The darkness settled on the Shenandoah above the Arizona plains, the gas in the great bags was contracted by chilling breezes, and becoming heavier with the drop in the temperature, she was forced to jettison 1,400 pounds of gasoline and release one of the tanks after having discharged all water ballast to acquire sufficient lift.

At 1:30 a. m. mountain time, the Shenandoah dropped her ballast tanks and was above Douglas, 210 miles west of El Paso. She was due at Port Worth about 4 p. m. There she will be met by the navy dirigible, the USS Akron, and will be taken to Lakehurst, N. J., her home station, tomorrow morning.

The bandits, believed to have numbered five, drilled holes through the vault door from the inside. Awakened by the explosion, several citizens armed themselves and opened fire on the robbers, who continued to work while they turned the fire.

In the exchange of shots, of which more than 50 were fired, two robbers were shot through the body. He was brought to a hospital where, where a doctor said his condition was precarious.

Monster Paving Project Finished

Program had been made since Sept. 1. Up to that date, only 71,000 yards of concrete had been laid. The project was delayed by continued rains during July and August. At that time it was feared part of the program would have to be given up. The weather of the past seven weeks made possible the completion of the entire project, 35,000 yards being laid in that period.

THE FAITH THAT MAKES ONE UNAFRAID

COMMENT ON THE UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR OCTOBER 26, 1924.

Read Mark 4.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

Nobody loves a coward. Emerging from a lower form of man in a long forgotten age we have lost our faith, our heads have changed in shape, our feet no longer have the prehensile power to cling to the limbs and our hands do not reach to our knees with enormous muscular powers, but we have not lost the age old admiration for physical courage. From the time when a man held his home in a cave by standing in front of his enemies and fighting with a stone ax for his woman and his home, physical courage has bulked large. We have never gotten over this ingrained admiration for the brave man. That is why we still like to see a prize fight and place such stress on athletic contests.

Children are closer to the animal age than grown ups and call one another "Faintly Cats." Grown men and women are no better, but they are more polite.

Jesus gave his disciples a wonderful lesson in the faith that makes men unafraid. One evening after a trying day when he had spoken before great crowds, when his physical strength was almost exhausted, he asked his friends, who were scared and fishermen, to call out across the sea. While they were getting the boat ready he retired to the small cabin, threw over him a rough fisherman's coat and went to sleep.

The story is told in each of the gospels of Matthew, Mark and Luke and is almost identical in the telling. After they had made part of the crossing there came up a terrible storm. The waves rolled high and swept over the boat. It must have been a very unusual storm, because his disciples were strong men and no little capful of wind would have scared them. The Sea of Galilee is only 8 miles wide and 15 miles long, but a storm on this small bit of water can be as awful as a storm on the mighty Pacific.

The boat was swept and the men weakened. Jesus looked out over the raging, hungry waves and the wind began to be quiet and the waves to recede. And to his friends he said:

"Why are ye fearful? Have ye not yet faith?"

During the recent war and in every war which history records, there are many instances of courage which never failed, of courage which under the most discouraging times never faltered. There are men now living in my home town who under fire from the enemy, when their men were lying flat under orders, were able to swamp and along the front, paying no attention to the flying death of bullets.

When the horses of the German Emperor were within a few miles of Paris, General Belletun as they moved by a long ordered plan, there seemed no hope that they would be stopped. They were stopped and men who know will tell you that they were not stopped by the men and guns facing them. At that time there were men in this nation and in other nations who feared, they never for a moment doubted the outcome. What was it that gave them their faith? I think Jesus would have been proud of them and after the crisis had passed I think he would have said to some who were panic stricken:

"Why are ye fearful? Have ye not yet faith?"

A story is told of a good Bishop, an old man, who was aboard a ship when a storm wreathed and pulled at the vessel, the waves rolled over the decks and it seemed that the ship must be lost. A delegation of passengers sought the Bishop to pray for them and they found him calmly standing on the deck by a protecting mast and watching the storm without a quiver. They surrounded him and asked him to get down on his knees and pray for them. He looked over the terrified crowd and said: "I have already prayed before this emergency came. My prayers are not held until some great danger is upon me."

If we as Christians really believe what we profess to believe, we had that quality of faith which made the Bishop unafraid and which has carried many men and women to death unafraid, we would never know the pangs of fear. It is easy to tell a man not to worry, it is hard to apply that advice to yourself. There is in us so much of the old human nature and of fear of the unknown that our faith needs to be of a stern a vital sort.

MARYLAND IS LINED UP FOR CALVIN COOLIDGE

Coolidge. There is a surprising amount of Coolidge sentiment in this city, which is usually so heavily Democratic. In most campaigns the totals obtained here are sufficiently large to cut down the republican lead obtained in the rural districts.

Coming to Vote for Cool.

So the democrats are in the unfortunate position of being invaded on both flanks. Many conservatives who think Coolidge is a symbol of continued business progress are saying among themselves that the Bryan part of the ticket is the reason for their defection. The truth is they have been affected by the La Follette scare and the urge is from the right with them rather than the left any more. As for labor, it votes the democratic party more or less in a spirit of protest and this time the La Follette party is attracting the protest voter much more strongly than the Bryan party.

The voting in Maryland with this year what has been so often said as inevitable in the democratic party—that its conservatives, especially in the northern border states, would ultimately be found in the bottom of the republican brechen of the republican party.

There are, curiously enough, some democratic acquisitions from an unexpected quarter. Thousands of people will vote the democratic ticket this year because John W. Davis has explicitly and unequivocally denounced the Ku Klux Klan. This is a very unusual thing for a politician to do. The "Abe-American," one of the leading negro newspapers, with a circulation of about 10,000, is openly supporting Davis.

Maryland Republicans

The republican managers privately express the greatest confidence in their ability to carry the state. They are counting, of course, on defections from the regular democratic vote in Baltimore, especially in the "wet" districts where the Wisconsin senator's "wetness" is being made much of in the hope of drawing votes away from Davis.

In some democratic districts, outside of Baltimore, the precinct polls show a number of losses from Davis to Coolidge. To some extent this will be offset by firm votes in republican districts going from Coolidge to La Follette. There are also some local factors which may help the democrats. Representative Zihman, a republican, was nominated after a hard fought fight. This may mean defections. Also in the district represented by Sydney Mudd, who died last week, the democrats have nominated a strong candidate in Stephen T. Campbell. The congressional representation is evenly divided between the republicans and democrats. The vote of the state of Maryland in the event the election were thrown into the house of representatives would then be tied and not counted, so the democratic national organization has put its energies behind the candidacy of Campbell, all of which may tend to win Davis some votes.

General Charles G. Dawes will go into the New York city district for three days after a night address in Wilmington, Del., Thursday.
